A black and white illustration showing a close-up of a person's arm and hand holding a long, thin object, likely a cue stick, reaching towards a large, tilted billiard table. The table is angled downwards from the left side of the frame. On the table, several billiard balls are scattered across its surface. In the upper right corner, there is a circular sign with the words "THE SHOOT" written on it. The overall scene suggests a game of pool or billiards.
